"Eternal"

It was such a cold night in november
That followed by a much colder morning
I feel the shivers each time I remember
But in my heart something will keep burning and beating

You're eternal cause I believe
You're in the air that I breathe
And eternal though eyes can't see
I feel you're right here with me

One soul goes and comes in this life circle
A story that goes around with no end
Made by love and flesh we're only mortals
But somehow something will always remain again

You're eternal cause I believe
You're in the air that I breathe
It's eternal though eyes can't see
I feel you're love upon me

Cause eternal you'll always be
You're in the air that I breathe
Though I can't see but within me
You'll always live eternally

And you live eternally
And you live eternally
You'll always live eternally

Though I can't see but within me
You'll always live eternally
