"Innocent Lies"

There is a little place inside my head
Where I put every single word unsaid
Before they crawl out and touch your ears
I should lie
They all say that the truth's the only answer
But it can break your heart and leave you bitter
Some things are maybe better kept a secret
I should lie
Ooh ooh, won't kiss and tell
I promise that there's nothing wrong
Believe me when I say to you

It's just an innocent lie
A pure and innocent lie
It's just to avoid a broken heart

Well just like any boy you can play your heart
I can see your every move from the start
And just like any girl I play with your mind
I can lie
You know I cannot hide my feelings for you
And I can't deny what I say you'll do
It's just a silly way of self-protection
That I lie
Ooh ooh but anyway
I promise that there's nothing wrong
And I will make it up to you
