No way they can try to keep me here
Locked inside a world of hate and nasty lies
No this darkness has no hold on me
See the sky light up when my love starts to fly

See my love fly right over their walls
See my love fly right over their walls
Oh, love fly right over their walls

No one here can try and cut my wings
'Cause, I've got my love out there waiting just for me
No chains or crosses, they won't keep me in Tears turn into salt as they fall down to the sea

See my love fly right over their walls
See my love fly right over their walls

Stone and steel won't stop me, I will set you free
Across this world I'll follow you, just raise your head and see
Love is so much stronger and I believe in what I know
I will follow your desire, wherever you may go

See my love fly right over their walls
See my love fly right over their walls
Love fly right over their walls
See my love fly right over their walls
