Look at me as I smile
Tilt my head as I say "please"
Know I could make you go the extra mile
Or maybe let you fall on your knees

Something so delicious
Like honey is to the bees
As simple as batting these eye lashes
Could make a man loss his beliefs

It's alright, it's okay
It's just love that we play
Through the nights and the days
No one's safe

There's no use to find an excuse
Stole your heart, I stole your heart
Too strong to lose but you can't choose
I stole your heart before you even know
It's not an accident I am certain
It's what happens when girls decide
To use our weapons, use our weapons

And it works like a charm
No need to disagree
It's madness that I carry his heart in my arms
And I can do whatever I please

It's alright, it's okay
It's a role that we play
Through the nights and the days

There's no use to find an excuse
Stole your heart, I stole your heart
Too strong to lose but you can't choose
I stole your heart before you even know
It's not an accident I am certain
It's what happens when girls decide
To use our weapons, use our weapons

Look at me as I smile
