One thing that I must agree with
You got to step outside the picture just to see it
Everybody loses it sometimes
My eyes can't fake what you feel inside

Should of known the way I saw you standing
Was it everything you imagined could happen
Tried once but I got distracted
Head first and there's no time for reaction

Got to go, got to get things moving
You got to realize to think before you do it
Found out by the time I knew this, the feeling slipped away

Can you ever imagine what it's like
To see every day
But through a hopeless set of eyes
Can you ever feel the want inside
It's all up to you
You've got to find out what you believe in over time

One thing that I must agree with

You got to step outside the picture just to see it
Everybody loses it sometimes
My eyes can't fake what you feel inside

Sometimes when I'm almost empty
I used to wish tomorrow never came and hit me
But today is a time worth living
So things have got to change

Can you ever imagine what it's like
To see every day
But through a hopeless set of eyes
Can you ever feel the want inside
It's all up to you
You've got to find out what you believe in over time

Can you ever imagine what it's like
To see every day

But through a hopeless set of eyes
Can you ever feel the want inside
It's all up to you
You've got to find out what you believe in over time
