Watch the time passing by
Seeing strangers in the sky
Rusty eyes, stare and bleed
Hope the hell that you do not see
Something in this world needs to change, yeah

Hear the lies, see their eyes
Morally how we compromise
Stained again by a friend
Cut yourself back down to size
Something in this world needs to change

Another slap in the face
I know this time of the year as the revillusion
And still I fall out of place
Open your mind to the change of evolution

Look around there's a change
Try to find the end of pain
People who cause are just partly to blame
Try to find the reason why we all stay the same
Something in this world needs a change

Another slap in the face
I know this time of the year as the revillusion
And still I fall out of place
Open your mind to the change of evolution

Another slap in the face
I know this time of the year as the revillusion
And still I fall out of place
Open your mind to the change of evolution

Revillusion, revolution
Revillusion, revolution
Revillusion, revolution
Revillusion, revolution

Another slap in the face
I know this time of the year as the revillusion
And still I fall out of place
Open your mind to the change of evolution

Another slap in the face
I know this time of the year as the revillusion
And still I fall out of place
Open your mind to the change of evolution
