I miss You really wish You would come back to haunt
me now
I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah
I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt me

Why did You always have to be so nice Why could'nt you become a poltergeist Slam the door, drag a chain up the stairs Anything to made me know You're there

Why did You have to be a peaceful soul
I wish sometimes You would just loose control
I know it's crazy but this is where You should be Come back and haunt me now

I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah
I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt
me now

(Back and haunt me now)

You left a memorie I cant erase And theres no one in life can take Your place Now I find myself searching my mind Did I ever say a word unkind

Want You to know that it would be alright To cause some trouble on a saturday night I'd love to have it on a way I used to be Come back and haunt me now

I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah
I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt
me now

I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah

I miss You really wish You would come back to haunt
me

Why did You have to be a peaceful soul
I wish sometimes You would just loose control
I know it's crazy but this is where You should be Come back and haunt me now

I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt
me now
I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah

I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt
me now
I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah

I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt
me now
I know You're on the other side and watching over me
yeah

I miss You really wish you would come back to haunt
me now
