

Tanya Stephens

"I Can See A Storm Coming"

Visit "I Can See A Storm Coming" on MotoLyrics.com

I can see a storm coming, storm coming
I can see a storm coming.
I can see a storm coming, just what i need after such a good night.
You are hiding and running, although the weather forecast said it will be alright
Another bittersweet morning, funny how the weather seems like my life.
Cause the rain fallin on the outside matches my moves.
I hear you say it's gonna be alright, but that not true
Cause everytime you get tired of see me around,
You say something really silly, like 'i just wanna be alone'
And it hurts me more than you will ever know.
Everytime i get next to you, you want me to go.
And it hurts me more than you will ever see,
I guess you never really cared that much for me..
I can see a storm coming, storm coming
I can see a storm coming.
I can see a storm coming. winds like these can tear me
apart
No time to be frontin', i guess i knew how you were right from the start Im trying to figure out one thing, how i could trust a guy like you with my heart.
Cause you leave my head pounding, just like the rain.
Say you're sorry, turn around, and do it again.
Now it seems i've become an unshakeable pain,
Cause the more you say you're changing, yes the more you stay the same.
And it hurts me more than you will ever know.
Everytime i get next to you, you want me to go.
And it hurts me more than you will ever see,
I guess you never really cared that much for me..
No you don't.
I can see a storm coming, storm coming
I can see a storm coming.

Visit Tanya Stephens page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

