Too young to fall in love
He's in the hands of the beast
Her heart's out for the one, his is a page torn at the seams
His dreams packed in a six-string
His thoughts wrapped up in songs
The last thing on his mind now, is the girl he left at home

Another night, the phone's red light
He plays back the message that she left
Do you ever think of me (think of me)
Its hard for me to pass the time (or pass this by)
The rain it lasts forever, underneath ohio skies
I hope that you're happy now (are you happy without me)
I hope all your dreams come true (all your dreams)
Do you ever think of me (think of me now)
Cause I'm thinking about you

Inside there is frustration
A lack of love at hand
She's lost all fucking patience with some guys who lost there chance
He says he just needs one break
One break to make his shot
She just wants him to let it all go, but she knows that would break his heart

Another night, tears and candle light
He plays back the message that she left
Do you ever think of me (think of me)
Its hard for me to pass the time (or pass this by)
The rain it lasts forever, underneath ohio skies
I hope that you're happy now (are you happy without me)
I hope all your dreams come true (all your dreams)
Do you ever think of me (think of me now)
Cause I'm thinking about you

Think of me now, miss the times under ohio skies
