Sick and angered by my friends extremely cold
Heartless talkin' shit behind my back about me
To my friends the source a jealous passion
Towards a spirit stuck in contention and feel

Just need some time to myself again
Need to bring back the old days
When I was in control of my life
Again and again

Just endangered with my friends extremely bold
Honest I'll be when it comes to me
I said I'm sorry
But you don't hear me

Just need some time to myself again
Need to bring back the old days
When I was in control of my life
Again and again

Just need some time to myself again
Need to bring back the old days
When I was in control of my life
Again and again

I tried to say that I was sorry to you
But you don't think I speak honestly
That okay 'cause I can move on now
I'm so sorry, no

Just need some time to myself again
Need to bring back the old days
When I was in control of my life
Again and again

Just need some time to myself again
Need to bring back the old days
When I was in control of my life
Again and again
