Justice wears a blindfold
Justice is blind to my kind
With an open mind you will find
That the truth will set you free to be yourself,
Equality is unheard of,
In this establishment pre-judicial system
Where money talks, I am unheard
Disciples from hate in control
Loud and clear it's not fair,
Open our ears and our minds will follow,
Equal voice volume no longer hollow
With this blindfold
It's so hateful and cold
What we're told's another lie,
Spit out by, our nation of misinformation
Their hearts like cement
Heavy and thick like mud
No brother can afford a lawyer to correct what's been done, Innocence is money, no cash, I just look funny,
Ain't hired 'cause my life's a parole,
Too bad it's my life you f*ckin' stole,
You can't take away my freedom
This ostracising way of life you're leading It's bleeding ignorance infectious to others
Your influence influenza
You can't take my life from me
