Step right up, let's paint a smile
On a clown so it's upside down
Sarcastic impression of what we've become Playing the part that's been cast by some

Lying in wait, trying to figure it out
Needing to make ends meet
Elephant's in the room tonight
Around and round we go
Where we stop no one will know

Everything seems to be falling apart
Happens, complacence can feed the spark
End over end, side by side
Lonesome while counting down, clock's been tight

Praying for help we'll be alright
Around and round we go
When we'll stop, no one can know

Nothing can save us until we've been left behind
One more time
View from below looking up's where we start to climb
One last time

Nothing can save us until we've been left behind
One more time
View from below looking up's where we start to climb
One last time

It's not as bad as we knew it could be
Happens, complacence can feed the spark
Sometimes kind, never proud
Lonesome while counting down, clock's been tight
Escort me into the light

Nothing can save us until we've been left behind
One more time
View from below looking up's where we start to climb
One last time

Nothing can save us until we've been left behind

One more time

Let's fake a smile
Step right up, let's fake a smile
Let's fake a smile
Step right up, let's fake a smile
Round and round we

Nothing can save us until we've been left behind
One more time
