That's a pretty little friend ya got there
Can't she introduce herself?
Can't you look me in the eye tonight?
Am I missing something?
That's a pretty little dress she's wearing.
Do you know how to take it off?
Well I must be leaving anyway
I was going somewhere
And if it's all the same to you I'll just pretend
Like we never met
You see it all comes down to stories in the end
And well, some are just better to forget.
That's a pretty little car she's got there
I bet she's fast.
No I don't need a ride anywhere
But thanks for asking
And if it all the same to you I'll just pretend
Like we never met
You see it all comes down to stories in the end
And well, some are just better to forget.

And if it's all the same to you I'll just pretend
Like we never met
You see it all comes down to storiees in the end
And well some are just better to forget
You see it's all the same to you,
I know it's all a game to you
So uhm, what did you tell our pretty little friend?
Does she know you're just passing through?
That's a pretty little heart you've got there.
That's a pretty little heart you've got there.
