the scene erased in time and left our hearts to dry on canvas dripping years, years of neglect feel this pull?

momentum's selling out colors begin to cave in and were still burning like our eyes wash away the red while no one hears wash away the red while no one hears

my memory is gone
tonight's the night i bleed, i bleed just like i've been forever and ever see through the shades

my memory is gone,

just like i've been forever and ever, see through the shades

the scenes are lost,
and the pages turn
and the binding falls apart, falls apart

the scenes are lost,
and the pages turn

compliments on selling out her words begin to cave in were burning alive, Alive my memory is gone wash away the red while no one hears i'm caving in.....
