"To Love Somebody" by Barry Gibb and Robin Gibb, 1967. The lyrics are not on the album and are not totally clear there either, but...

There's a light, a certain kind of light,

that never shone on me.

I want my life to be, to live with you, live with you.

There's a way, each and every day,

to do each and every little thing,

but what good does it bring,

if I ain't got you, ain't got you.

You don't know what it's like...

To love somebody, to love somebody, the way I love you.

In my brain, I see your face again,

You know I pray for you every night.

You ain't got to be so blind, and I'm sad, oh so sad.

I'm a man, can't you see what I am,

you know I live and I breathe for you,

but what good does breathing do,

if I ain't got you, ain't got you.

You don't know what it's like...

To love somebody, to love somebody, the way I love
you.

(repeat chorus)
