Hey I sent you when I met you all the load
And I meant to resurrect you on my own
Hey I sent you when I met you all the load
And I meant to resurrect you on my own

Connect the dots or just four
The cement is starting to pour
Her house is covered in vines
Her legs are covered with mines

Why don't you say what you said when I found you
Why don't you say what you mean to
Why do you play with the Joe's that surround you
Why don't you say what you said last week
What you said to me

The beginning of Anne
Was the ending of the plan
The beginning of Anne
Was the ending of the plan

Will I regret you, have I upset you, are you surprised
Give this girl her sunrise
I will reset you and I'll let you off the load
One more time and then we go

And what about the middle, the middle of the girl
And what about the whole wide
And how to solve the riddle, the riddle of the girl
To open up the whole wide world

Why don't you say what you said when I found you
Why don't you say what you mean to
Why do you play with the Joe's that surround you
Why don't you say what you said last week
What you said to me

Hey I sent you hey I sent you
And I meant to resurrect you
