Lately I've heard about the things that you have said,
And I've wondered quite a bit just what you might have read.

Out from the inside where the future's much too bright
I heard you crying loud, but that don't make it right.

Hold on 'cause the end is coming soon, it won't be long.

The time has come, and the life you know has got you
on the run.

So if you ever feel the least bit insecure,
I'll bring it down to you and set it at your door.
'Cause when you're sleeping, you'll be sorry that you did.

I've got no feelings but I've got my head on flipped!

Hold on 'cause the end is coming soon, it won't be long.

The time has come, and the life you know has got you
on the run.

Hold on 'cause the end is coming soon, it won't be long.

on the run.
