Parting the stars, parting the stars
Come on everybody leave your pubs and your bars
Cause we're parting the stars
Parting the stars tonight

But you say that it can't be done
We got arms like catapults
Throwing stones into the brick walls
We got tongues like thunderstorms

Let the comments pour on down
We offer up our thoughts
To the greater good of mankind
We talk of better times

Let the comments pour on down
The best protest is in your heart
