

Feeling, The "Another Soldier"

A dear heart, a small part, I could have tried more A sweet smell, a thin shell, a farewell, i should of cried

I don't eat, i don't sleep, i just fight but what i long for Is a safe place, a kind face, the sweet taste i nearly died for

Another soldier, another soldier, another hit to the heart when they told you Another mistake, another heartache,
you feel the blood on your hands getting colder
Another soldier, another soldier,
another hit to the heart when they told you
Another mistake, another heartache,
you feel the blood in your veins getting colder

They boil squid in their own ink, their moneys all spent We dont own, we just rent, its not home until the cheque's sent But its too late, the locks break, i won't let them take it all away
Wrong or right, i just fight to keep my world safe

Another soldier, another soldier,
another hit to the heart when they told you
Another mistake, another heartache,
you feel the blood on your hands getting colder
Another soldier, another soldier,
another hit to the heart when they told you
Another mistake, another heartache,
you feel the blood in your veins getting colder

Another soldier

Another soldier, another soldier,
another hit to the heart when they told you
Another mistake, another heartache,
you feel the blood on your hands getting colder
Another soldier, another soldier,
another hit to the heart when they told you
Another mistake, another heartache,
