

Feeling, The "Blue Piccadilly"

She gave her heart for a wealthy man
A healthy child and a healthy tan
He gave it all
For a pretty face
A sweet smile
But a bitter taste

They gave it all
Yes they gave it all
Her thoughts were big but their feelings small

I put the dog out for you
Travelled beneath wards for you
Down where it's rumbling
Suburbs left crumbling
Here's where the fun begins
It's true
But I never knew anyone make me run but you do

And that's when
The blue piccadilly takes me away from the city
Maybe someday you'll forgive me
Twelve stops and home

You journeyed downwards for me
There aint much left down here to see
You're just too cool for me
You made quite a fool of me
You brought out the school in me, in me
But I never knew anyone tougher than you

And that's when
The blue piccadilly takes me away from the city
Maybe someday you'll forgive me
Twelve stops and home

And baby I think that I love ya
And theres a sure sign above ya
Cos it aint it a shame
Theres another
I think ill go home

(Why are you here again)
Twelve stops and home
(There is no better friend)
Twelve stops and home
(Look at the time we spent)
Twelve stops and home

(When will it ever end)

You take me down, down, down
