Don't you dig this life
They call the meek
You whose feet are on the ground
And if you get too high
What goes around comes around
And brings you down

'Cause people gonna see you
How they wanna see you
People gonna rate you
People gonna hate you
People gonna shove you
People gonna love you
People gonna do whatever
Makes them feel they own you better

'Cause everyone knows we're strange (Ahh) So why do you feel ashamed (Ohh) Baby Everyone knows we're different (Ahh) So why do you feel ashamed We love you all the same

That's why
'Cause if you feel it
And if you mean it
Don't apologize
And you will be just fine
'Cause all they ever need is what you'll give them
Is what you're given
They only put you down if you give them permission

People gonna see you
How they wanna see you
People gonna rate you
People gonna hate you
People gonna shove you
People gonna love you
People gonna do whatever

Makes them feel they own you better

Yeah everyone knows we're strange (Ahh)
So why do you feel ashamed (Ohh) Baby
Everyone knows we're different (Ahh)
So why do you feel ashamed (Ohh)
We love you all the same, yeah
We love you all the same, yeah
We love you all the same
So don't you ever change

Your undernourished
And encouraged
And underrated
And unappreciated
And the world is turning in a different direction to us
You just look how far you've come considering
Through all the pushing and spitting and stuff

Yeah everyone knows we're strange (Ahh)
So why do you feel ashamed (Ohh) Baby
So why do you feel ashamed
We love you all the same, yeah

Yes we love you Yes we love you All the same All the same

Yes we love you Yes we love you All the same Don't ever change
