(with Barbra Streisand)

(Vince)

When I fall, you're my place to land
I lose my touch, your my hands
The one I hold on to
If you run out of reasons to try
I'll love enough for both you and I
I'll be the one you can run to

(Barbra)

I'd rather go through any pain love puts us through
Than to spend one day without you by my side

(Both)

If you ever leave me, will you take me with you?
If you're ever lonely, I wanna be lonely too
My home's beside you, no matter where you may go
My love's inside you, even more than you know

(Barbra)

In a world of anger and lies
I find peace in your eyes
A flame in the darkness

(Both)

And though all space and time
'Til every star refuses to shine

(Barbra)

You know where my heart is
I'd rather go through any pain love puts us through

(Both)

Than to spend one day without you by my side
If you ever leave me, will you take me with you?
If you're ever lonely, I wanna be lonely too
My home's beside you, no matter where you may go
My love's inside you, even more than you know

And I can't remember life without you

The way it used to be
Feels like a million years away

(Vince)
Hold me 'til the angel sing

(Barbra)
Tell me every little thing

(Both)
Promise me forever from this day

If you ever leave me, will you take me with you?
If you're ever lonely, I wanna be lonely too
My home's beside you, no matter where you may go
My love's inside you, even more than you know

(Barbra)
Even more than you know

(Vince)
Even more than you know

(Both)
Even more than you know
Even more than you know.
