I made a movie about the end of the world?
it was 12 seconds long and it didn't have a plot?
it just happens?
and that's why it's in black and white?
the characters don't talk or move around?
they just stare up at the sky, frozen?
and the light, the light is numb, the light is off?
the light is just a thumb nail sketch of god?
god...?
somewhere, someone is crying?
the camera sweeps over a desolate street?
holding a mother and her child?
the kid is calm and she is shaking?
the camera passes into the sun?
come at last to be undone?
panicking, she tries to run?
the kid is calm?
and then the credits roll?
and every name is my name?
