Rachael, I'm sorry that we never had the time
Matching love could of last forever
I will never let you go from the corners of my mind
Never, say never
Rachael, I'm dreaming of a day when you were mine
We could have been so good together
Lonely sitting here with just my thoughts beside me now
Never, say never

When you find the time
I'd like to nestle in your arms
Tangled in the deepest jungle
Never been so kind
All will be for sake (oh)

Rachael, a lesson hard to learn is what I've found
This love around has grown between us
I was never want to show the way that my heart lies?
Save me from misery
Rachael (oh, Rachael) it's taken far too long to realize You're everything that I could care for This paradise inside will never leave my heart and mind
Together and forever

With a lovers touch she will be Sending me away
A promise of a new beginning
Each and every day (oh?)
Even when we lie

Could have been so good together now
A new beginning every day
Could have been so good together, Rachael
Could have been so good together now
But she's still sending me away
