Black shoes tie and overcoat
Head full of lines and don't ya know
I can see you coming from a mile
He's looking for another taste
But I'm gonna put him in his place
With charm and grace elegance and style

So think about it first
Before you make it worse
Cause it's about to get a whole lot harder
And if it all works out
There won't be a doubt
At all you're headed for the boiling water

He's got his mother on his side
Up to his neck with selfish pride
It's costing him a lot more than he knows
He's looking for another fight
I hope he knows that we just might Take him for everything he owns

So think about it first
Before you make it worse
Cause it's about to get a whole lot harder
And if it all works out
There won't be a doubt
At all you're headed for the boiling water
