I believe in the faithful and true
And I believe in silly things
Like everlasting love

But I could never, ever believe
What was struck upon you
You fell away
But this time it was for good

Let me die young, let me die young
So I can be with you forever
Let me die young, let me die young
So I can laugh again in heaven

Once again you broke my heart
On other days
The pieces fell together again
But this time it's different

'Cause today my heart
Is beyond repair so it bleeds
'Cause darling you slipped away
Much too easy for me

Let me die young, let me die young
So I can be with you forever
Let me die young, let me die young
So we can laugh again in heaven

When the loneliness inside me
Turns to grief
I'll train my heart to sleep
Just to see you once again

I believe in the faithful and true
And I believe in silly things
Like everlasting love

Let me die young, let me die young
So I can be with you forever
Let me die young, I want my way

Let me die young, let me die young
So I can be with you, I wanna be with you
Let me die young, let me die young
I want my way, I could die, I could die
