"Winds Of Change"

Winds of change, winds of change, winds of change

Winds of change have come and the rain has gone
Now you're back again and I lose my pain
Winds of change are here, dry away my tears
Now I take your hand and the days of heartache end

Everybody sees you walking by my side
Everybody knows we start anew now
Anywhere we go the sun is shining bright
The tide has turned for me and you

Winds of change, winds of change, winds of change

Winds of change have come and the rain has gone
Now I know you're mine till the end of time
Winds of change are here, dry away my tears
I won't cry again, now the winds will stay the same

Winds of change, winds of change
