You were born an innocent child
Wide eyed and free, free from this world
You make believe that you're happy to keep life at bay
But as you grow older your demons will lead you astray

You've been searching for reasons
To cause a distraction
To cause a distraction
Because of this
You've been searching for reasons
To cause a distraction
To cause a distraction

You won't change
You're led like the blind
The same old routine
You're losing your mind
You said that someday your life will have meaning again
Hung up on the notion that one day you'll change everything

You've been searching for reasons
To cause a distraction
To cause a distraction
Because of this
You've been searching for reasons
To cause a distraction
To cause a distraction

We could bathe in this rapture
Till our skin will burn and dry...
