Take away this voice inside of me
'Cause I don't really need it anymore
There's nothing left to say
It's never going to change

She put this ribbon around my heart
She put this ribbon around my heart
She can pull it tight whenever she wants

Take this bitterness away from me
'Cause I don't really need it anymore
I'm cynical and weak
The way I've always been

She put this ribbon around my heart
She put this ribbon around my heart
She can pull it tight whenever she wants
Cos she hung it round her neck like it was something that you'd wear for Luck
Something that she'd wear for luck
