Heaven

Are you really waiting outside the door?

Never thought I'd hear the words before the road

Sever

It's the simple things that are so hard to grasp

Can't find myself in all the days that passed

But I can feel it when it shines

Nevermind, I'm falling in love with you

Can't find the road that runs through

Falling in love with you

Heaven

Are you really waiting outside the door?

Never thought I'd hear the words before the road

Sever

It's the simple things that are so hard to grasp

Can't find myself in all these days that pass

But I can feel it when it shines

Nevermind the way they shy

Turning round along the trail

My whole world is falling in love with you

Can't find the road that runs through

Falling in love with you

Can't find the road that gets through
