oh fantastic dreamer
show me what is really inside this third eye the light that glimmers glows like a far distant star in the night dualistic beamer
knows no one ever escapes here alive try to ascend among the mice and men conflicted nations donkeys and elephants

oh fantastic dreamer
show me what it takes to awake and survive invoke all your strength and come back to me the future's uncertain it will always be no do not deceive cause the karma you make is your enemy pure love has a cleansing effect on the self but your say you have so much to do like rise and shine in the nick of time check your face and your state of mind scurry about then out the door take your place in the big what for tell yourself behind the wheel on your way to cement the deal you love the money. and what it do ooh for you buy a big house and a fancy car all the underpinnings a celebrity star take a little lady any day if you could paid a pretty penny boy she better be good you love the honey and what she do ooh to take a break slow the breath. sit now still boy you need a rest ask yourself if you're in denial who the master who the child everybody plays with the evil ways and depending on the karma of the good old days there's a struggle with the subtle but if you don't mind you can inch away above it's a matter of time you dream what in me, not what i do ah, but it's for you, hey hey when light is beaming, this scenery, who's beaming me?

you

mother will you love me, always and again was no surprise, she rolled her eyes and probably new what I would do when I was through father can you help me, now and at the end he took one look and closed the book!
