It's a stretch I know, I've given in
But it's crawling in the background
And your veins were shot, with everything
That I could never give you
But I couldn't live without you

I saw your shadow yesterday
But I just turned the other way
I turned the other way

Here we go up and down again
I never knew how to be your friend
But you were always everyone to me
Everyone to me

You couldn't tell me why, you hung your head
So low when you spoke
But I knew enough about you
And the flowers that, you pushed aside
They dried back into nothing
But you couldn't live without them

I saw your shadow yesterday
But I just turned the other way
I turned the other way

Here we go up and down again
I never knew how to be your friend
But you were always everyone to me
Now I'm staring at your face again
I'm thinking about the shape I'm in
But you were always everyone to me
Everyone to me
Everyone to me

It's a stretch I know, I've given in
But it's crawling in the background
And your veins were shot, with everything
That I could never give you
But I couldn't live without you
No I couldn't live without you

I saw your shadow yesterday
But I just turned the other way
I turned the other way

Chorus
