Man is a beast
Came down from the trees
Crawling around
Spreads his disease
Up on the rocks
Playing with fire
Inventing his needs
To quench the desire
Blood on his hands
Love on his mind
Hell as a future
He's leaving Heaven way behind
All is fair in love and war
Kiss me you fool, it's love that we're all dying for
All is fair in love and war
Head for the hills, who knows what the fighting's for?
Man is a beast
Shame at the feast
There's too much to eat
Throw out the waste
At the beggar's bare feet

Aim for the moon

Shooting the stars

Insanity roaming the streets

But the sane drive new cars

Blood on his hands

Love on his mind

Selling the future

And the debts are left behind

And all is fair in love and war

Kiss me you fool, it's love that we're all dying for

All is fair in love and war

Head for the hills, who knows what all this fighting's
for?

And man is a beast

Open the outer soul

Man is a beast

Down in a scorching hole

Still man is a beast

Up on the rocks

There you reburn, yeah, yeah

Finching his needs

Oh, quench his desires

All is fair in love and war

Kiss me you fool, it's love that we're all dying for

All is fair in love and war

Time and patience always finds the open door

All is fair in love and war

Head for the hills, who knows what all this fighting's
for?

Man is a beast

Man is a beast
