Is it the glow of evil
That presents itself again
One rule for the species
And another for the man

Place yourself in his shoes
Observe his evil bent
Watch out for illusion
Or you may become a friend

In suspense, who, what, where and why
In suspense, who, what, where and why

Take a tip from no one
Become immortal man
No fear of your ending
Prepare your masterplan

In suspense, who, what, where and why
In suspense, who, what, where and why

I look for the connection
Between yourself and I
There is less time than we wish for
Another species dies

Invent a life with your eyes
Inscribe your own mottos
Use some imagination
Then watch your spirit grow

In suspense, who, what, where and why
In suspense, who, what, where and why

I look for the connection
Between yourself and I
There is less time than we wish for
Another species dies
