I danced in the surf
at the edge of an ocean could have been someone else could have been anything at all don't deny that you ask yourself how do you weigh in
this precious stone?
I stumbled on a flaw in the order unwrapped the gift and spread the sheet to the border there's no virtue if there's no sin
at the point of no return?
At the end of the day
there's no me without you
at the end of the day
this precious stone?
I'm a tick in the clock of old father time feel the beat to the rock under the palm of of my hand
this precious stone?
we're at the point of no return
