Hey, hey lady, looks like I'm under your spell once again
An' hey, hey lady, there just now ain't no denyin' these things

I will always be here
Always be with you

An' I know she said, "Let the leaves fall wherever they may"
But I find it hard, hard to find people like she is today

I will always be here
Always be with you

In this time
In this time
In this time

When you lay to sleep, tell me the visions you see in the night
When you turn around, what kind of shadow is cast by the light?

She will always be here
Always be here
I will always be here
I will always be with you

In this time
In this time
In this time
In this time, oh
