

Tea Party "Raven Skies"

I am walking on to the place of the lights
And the things I see with the starlight sight
In the dance of the fires, in the flames I see
Under raven skies, she will sleep with me

And I need her now and I need you
Welcome to my garden, and what do ya see?
Welcome to my garden, do ya still see me?

I am looking through, through the dance of the trees
I experience, what a shaman sees
I've returned within, I've returned with sights
Under raven skies, I will sleep tonight

And I need her now, and I need you
Welcome to my garden and what do ya see?
Welcome to my garden, do ya still see me?

And I need her now
Welcome to my garden and what do ya see?
Welcome to my garden, do ya still see me?
Welcome to my garden and what do ya see?
Welcome to my garden, do ya still see me?
Do ya still see me?

And I need her now
And I need her now
And I need her now
And I need her now
