You've got your own space in time
Your precious gift falls in the first light
Just need to know you exist
Someone to blame for the wreck

One step away from you
Closer the further I go

Buried to keep you safe
Blinded to see the day
Love blooms into a flower
Opens 'til it catches fire

One step away from you
Closer the further I go
Falling into your star
Touching your face, torn apart
Oh, my love
Your essence fades into memory
Trailing in flames
All beauty is gone, gone, gone, gone

You built your tower
As everyone is pushing for the high ground
Lost all control over your fate short of you killing yourself
(defiant of all else)
Against the glass
Waiting for the waves to come in Poor love, opens, takes all it can
Poor love, it's all for nothing

You've got your own space in time
You've got your own space in time
Ones, zeroes, I don't feel a thing
One step away from you
