Next to the leather cab in us all
There's a crayon colored cobra.
There's a kilo of carbondioxide
And a cooler in my cola.
Next to the leather cab in my car
There's a crayon colored cobra.
There's a kilo of carbondioxide
And a coconut in my cola.

Take a wild guess, I'm guessing I kissed her.
Knock yourself out, I'd do your little sister.

Next to the leather cab in us all
There's a crayon colored cobra.
There's a kilo of carbondioxide
And calypso in my cola.
Next to the copper cab in my car
There's a crayon colored cobra.
There's a kilo of carbondioxide
And a banananananana in my cola.

Take a wild guess, I'm guessing I kissed her.
Knock yourself out, I'd do your little sister.

Take a wild guess, I'm guessing I kissed her.
You could do a stranger,
And I could do her friend.
Knock yourself out, I'd do your little sister.
Everybody's got a friend tonight.
