"All Over Me"

In the space between what's wrong and right
You will find me waiting for you

All your fortresses go down in the night
To the dawn I'll see you through

'Cause I know that you know
You're all over me now
And it's clear
You will show
Your curtains will close

But if your heart is cold
My sheets are warm

I will shelter you through the storm
I will shelter you all through the storm

If the answers aren't so easy to find
The questions will have to do

'Cause I've lost my self deep in your eyes
My only fix is you

'Cause I know that you know
You're all over me now
And it's clear
You will show
Your curtains will close

But if your heart is cold
My sheets are warm

I will shelter you through the storm
I will shelter you all through the storm

Say what I am what we are it's a start towards the truth
Taking my breath with each delicate step in my heart
It's you

In the space between what's wrong and right
You will find me waiting for you
