Somebody told me I should get a normal job
If I don't quit that band I have I'd end up as a slob
But I'm not listening to no-one Especially not to people who are unhappy with their lives
And yet still they preach...

Well, this who I am and what I really wanna do
Yeah, I do respect you, hope you will respect me too
I'm ready to go on with my life, know it's all in me
I realize it now, I control my life, I'm free
Yeah, I realize it now

Somebody told me that I dream my life away
If I didn't start to live like him I'd end up to be blase?
But I won't follow nor believe him
More important is I should put further trust in me
Going my own way...

Well, this is who I am and what I'm truly standing for
I figured out the answers by myself and I'm quite sure
I can do whatever that I want to, it's all in me
I realize it now, I control my life, I'm free
Yeah, I realize it now

This is a beginning
And I know it never ends
Life's too short for you to doubt
There is always some way out
Try your own way and you will see
How much sweeter life can be
