First words you say in tears complaining how I'm never near I know I'm lost sometimes cause I'm grounded in my mind it's like this all the time first I say that you're ok then I go my way and you're desperate, so desperate when you're down

Here I stand, take my hand and I'll try to understand you right the best way I can, cause after all I am your friend

Last words you scream to me you don't expect too much of me cause I could give you anything if I just could be myself It's like that all the time first I say that you're ok then I my way again you're so desperate but still mine

Now the girl is working, now the girl feels fine and I'm the one who feels down but if she'll be working until the end of time I hope she'll understand me then, the best way she can cause after all I'm her friend 'til the end
