"Material boy"

im leaving the wat. to Buddhism no longer loyal im breaking my heart,as my compassion to the third world turned to greed bye bye real mccooy,no ideal as if i was royal now im a material boy theres nothing in this world i dont think i need now im shopping im not stopping there will always be new stuff to buy and i will expand my needs somehow i swear i bought a new imac and mouse,a phone to go with my new spirit next step might be a house,six bedrooms and a pool just for me i will live like tsar,the beggars chant wont hear it i'll have boat,new t.v and car and in mouth a fat cuban cigar

and i'll expand my needs somehow i'll expand my needs somehow i swear
