We have been so close for so long.
These fading hearts won't beat as one.
Listen up, don't pretend to care.
I'll always be the one who's there.

Wake up and let this sink in.
I refuse to let you win.
Wake up and let this sink in.
I refuse to let you--

Go home, you're on your own tonight.
I never thought this would feel so right.
Soon the tide will wash our footprints away, and we'll become a memory.

Tell me where your faith has gone.
It's in my arms where you belong.

Wake up and let this sink in.
I refuse to let you win.
Wake up and let this sink in.
I refuse to let you win again.

Go home, you're on your own tonight.
I never thought this would feel so right.
Soon the tide will wash our footprints away, and we'll
become a memory.

Soon the tide will turn.
A new day will come.
The horizon is now in sight.
We must be strong.
The truth will break us all.
