you - you think it's cool to be crazy i say "you want risks? take risks." there's not point in taking chances, and me, i wouldn't call it a sophomore slump no, i'd say i'm one step closer to being just where i want to be away from this scene away from this machine, alright so meet me in the middle well, come on, let's make up a dance and we'll agree to call it the compromise step one: find a partner grab a pen and don't you dare ask questions just sign on the dotted line step two(oo-oo) your partner behind a desk where they'll do absolutely do nothing so it's your job to dance and smile the whole time

don't call it a trend cause its the only way we think to get ahead
there's no sense in complaining if it doesn't change our minds well, take me by the hand, let's compromise i can't feel your feet touching mine if you can't dance there's someone else in line
