Hey, you're in trouble, friend.
Borrowing time 'til you get hurt again.
How many times you gave blood --
that many times you gave up trying to stretch your check-book
'til month's end.

It's my mind to walk this line,
banking on the fact that I'll be fine.
But I got a friend who's systems fail
and if she can't even afford that cocktail,
the treble down there's creeping up behindâ€¦!

'Cause when the C.D.C. spreads fear, who'll ease the trouble down there?
And when the N.I.H. runs scared, who'll ease the
trouble down there?
And when the A.M.A. don't care, a -who a ease the trouble dung deh?

Oh you're in troubleâ€¦!
Trouble! Trouble!
