I've been so broken
Leaving my heart open
Too many times and all the while I just keep coping
But I'm so confident
That this one could be different
Yeah you could be the man to end all of my heart's aching

Cos I've had enough babe
Of looking for love
I want you to want me
Without all the game playing
If you understand me
Make me believe again
Believe again

This could be my last first kiss
I've never felt like this before
I feel myself around ya
There's something soft about your eyes
I know that this is right
For the very first time
I know that love exists
This could be my last first kiss

Can't help but notice when
You do the little things
Pull out my chair, open my door, and spend some time with me
You are so genuine
With every move you're making
I feel the rush, it's in your touch, it's got my pulse racing

Cos I've had enough babe
Of looking for love
I want you to want me
Without all the game playing
If you understand me
And make me believe again
Believe again

This could be my last first kiss
I've never felt like this before
I feel myself around ya
There's something soft about your eyes
I know that this is right
For the very first time
I know that love exists
This could be my last first kiss

One in a million
Super fast collision
Racing at the speed of light
No fear, hold on, it's time

This could be my last first kiss
I've never felt like this before
This could be my last first kiss
