I still remember the good times by Frank Ashton
I thought it would be so easy
Just to pack a few things and leave you
But when I looked all around me
At the moments of love that surround me

There you said: "Stay
No matter what a price you pay"
I said: "Maybe, but my pride won a day
And now all I can say

I still remember the good times
And how I threw them away
Did you see how I walked out the door
And just slammed all the good times away

But I remember the good times
Who else can love me like you do?
I still remember the love that we had
It wasn't all bad
The good times were great
Let's forget all that's said, ahaha

Some nights I reach out and kiss you
You're not there and I cry 'cause I miss you
How could I let all this happen?
Oh, what good I have walked away?

You've been a good girl
As true as any girl can be
Please say yes if I come to your door
Will you hold me once more?

I still remember the good times
And now they've come back to stay
Did you think I'd forget when you left me
And locked all the good times away

I still remember the good times
Who else can love me like you do?
I remember the love that we shared

And I still want you to
We'll make it together
I know we'll come true, ahaha

I still remember the sweet, sweet nights
I was holding you tight
I was loving you right, ahaha

I need some more of those hot, sweet nights
When my soul was on fire
You were taking me high, ahaha

Nahaha
Nahaha
Nananana
Naaaaa!

Aaaa!
Haha!

But I remember the good times
Who else can love me like you do?

I still remember the good times
And now they've come back to stay
Did you think I'd forget when you left me
And locked all the good times away

I still remember the good times
Who else can love me like you do?
I remember the love that we shared
And I still want you to
We'll make it together
I know we'll come true, ahaha

I still remember the good times
And now they've come back to stay
