When I think about the first time(the first time)

I thought I found someone who cared for me but things were not as they appeared to be

Rainy day man on your shoulders I cried when my first brush with love left me shaking inside

Rainy day man

Ever since I can remember (remember) just like a brother you've been strong and true always been the one to see me through

Rainy day man

you're much more than a friend

I would give anything just to see you again

rainy day man

repeat till fade
