Look at me baby
I'm crying
Tears so many
Tears
So so many tears (repeat 8 times)

I am real good actor
This is a heavy road
Our love's a script and you carry total control
Like a clown and I've been smiling
Whenever people are all around
But when the curtain comes down and the circus is through
No one is left but me and you and all my tears
So many tears my tears

One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
Tears

Regretting nothing but the pain
My heart my life my world is filled with rain I'm drowning when the curtain comes down and the circus is through
No one is left but me you and all my tears

One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away so many
One word could take their place so many
One word could wash them away so many
One word could take their place so many
Tears
So many tears, tears one word could wash them away

Baby I just want to step back and look at my eyes
I've been crying girl cant you see
Oh girl
That dripping and dropping and dropping and dripping

and
dripping and dropping and dropping and dripping and
dripping and dropping and dropping and dripping and
dripping and dropping and dropping and dripping and
dripping and dropping and dropping and dripping and
dripping and dropping and dropping and dripping and dripping and dropping ,.

One word could wash them away
One word could take their place (all over me)
One word could wash them away (tears)
One word could take their place so many
One word could wash them away so many
One word could take their place so many tears
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place (teeeaaarrsssss)
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place

You gotta come off that stage baby
Come on home and rescues me
I want you to sing for me girl
I want you to dance for me baby
Move that body for me
Come on baby
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
One word could wash them away
One word could take their place
